Art in the Heart of Town Utility Box Mural Installations

Avenue of the Fountains

Along Avenue and Verde River in Fountain Hills, utility boxes have been transformed into striking works of art with a series of eight vibrant murals. Painted by artists throughout the state of Arizona, these creative installations bring color and personality to everyday infrastructure. Each mural reflects the unique character of Fountain Hills, turning ordinary utility boxes into engaging public art pieces that brighten our streets and neighborhoods. View these murals anytime to see how art revitalizes the community's urban landscape. Plus, stay tuned—six more murals will be added by the end of October in anticipation of Arts and Humanities Month, adding even more excitement and creativity to the town's visual appeal.
